SOLOMON POOL.

Solomon Pool, who calls himself the President of the University of North Carolina, has published, in the Raleigh Eve, a letter that places him beneath even the lowest of brutes.

North Carolina may now hang her head in shame. Massachusetts may no longer represent herself for having given birth to the vilest of mankind. Butler the beast gives way for Pool the infamous.

The Richmond Dispatch is worried about the third-term question. General Grant, it believes, can be President for life if he only wants to be. If there is anything that can make him President for life it will be the opposition of the constituency of the Dis- patch. Washington's Riddell.

True aspreaching saveth the Dis- patch. The Republican has told the truth for once notwithstanding that the President smooth-piece. It grand desires to continue in office, all that he has to do is what his organ intimates it may be necessary for him to do, issue a proclamation declaring that the southern people are still rebels, and that in order to their subjugation and to secure justice to the gallant soldiers who fought so bravely in the late war it is necessary for him to remain in office. This will fire the northern heart, and arouse the Beast Butlers, the Collyars, the Dixes, and all the hyenas of the North, and render his occupancy of the presidency for life a settled matter. Again and again have the Radicals resorted to such falsehoods to perpetuate their power, and again and again have the "intelligent" northern people been thus induced to come up to the support of the most corrupt and hypocritical party that ever disgraced a ruined country.
